On a separate sheet, provide a written letter explaining any extenuating circumstances that have caused you to become ineligible for financial aid. Students suspended from financial aid must have a justifiable reason to be reinstated. The most common reasons for reinstatement are for sickness, deaths within the family, disabilities, accidents, hardships, etc. You may also include any third party documentation to justify your request, such as, letters of support from professors, physicians, etc.

Submit your completed appeal form, written letter, and any supporting documentation to the Financial Aid Office. You may expect a decision from the Financial Aid Appeals Committee in 1-2 weeks, depending on the volume of appeals submitted. The Committee decision is mailed to you and documented in your financial aid file. Committee decisions are final and are not subject to further review.

If your appeal is approved for more than one term, full-time students must maintain at least a 12 hours and a 2.0 GPA for each term approved, and part-time students must pass all hours attempted with a 2.0 GPA for each term approved. If you do not meet these standards, your financial aid will again be suspended.

The Financial Aid staff at Northeast are interested in and committed to your success at Northeast. We encourage you to work with us to learn about financial aid options available to support your education.
