This report includes many impressive statistics on the Foundation’s growth, as well as analysis of how these activities have occurred. More important, the following pages illustrate the growing need for all Northeast Mississippi Community College and how donors, alums, and businesses are working with us to meet that need. While the information told here accounts for only a small portion of Northeast’s large impact in providing higher educational opportunities in Northeast Mississippi; all can take great pride in the achievements highlighted in this report.

FISCAL YEAR 2019
AT A GLANCE

MISSION STATEMENT:

The Northeast Mississippi Community College Development Foundation, Inc., a non-profit corporation, has worked and will continue working to strengthen the college through its private fund raising efforts. The Foundation solicits and receives gifts to support students, faculty and administration for Northeast Mississippi Community College.

FISCAL YEAR 2019 DIRECT SUPPORT TO NORTHEAST

TOTAL DIRECT SUPPORT: $1,460,000

The Northeast Mississippi Community College Development Foundation, Inc. annually engages the services of an independent accounting firm to perform an audit of the Foundation's financial statements. As part of the audit, the firm also reviews the internal controls and various policies and procedures to ensure the Foundation staff is adhering to the most current accounting practices. The Foundation's auditor, Sparks CPA Firm, has issued an unmodified audit opinion on the financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2019.

EATON RECERTIFIED AS A CERTIFIED FUND RAISING EXECUTIVE (CFRE)

Certified Fund Raising Executive International (CFRE) is proud to announce Northeast Mississippi Community College vice president of institutional advancement and executive director of the Northeast Development Foundation Patrick Eaton of Booneville has recertified as a Certified Fund Raising Executive.

Eaton, joins over 6,700 professionals around the world who hold the CFRE designation.

“I certainly appreciate CFRE and what they do for the fundraising industry,” Eaton said.

“As a certified CFRE, I always try to do the very best I can, which in turn will hopefully benefit our students, employees and donors, as well as the college overall.

Individuals granted the CFRE credential have met a series of standards set by CFRE International which include tenure in the profession, education, and demonstrated fundraising achievement. They have also passed a rigorous written examination testing the knowledge, skills, and abilities required of a fundraising executive, and have agreed to uphold Accountability Standards and the Donor Bill of Rights.

“The CFRE credential was created to identify for the public and employers those individuals who possess the knowledge, skills, and commitment to perform fundraising duties in an effective and ethical manner,” states CFRE International President and CEO Eva E. Aldrich, Ph.D., CAE, (CFRE 2001-2016). “As the certification is a voluntary achievement, the CFRE certification demonstrates a high level of commitment on the part of David Patrick Eaton to the fundraising profession and the donors who are served.”

CFRE recipients are awarded certification for a three-year period. To maintain certification status, certificants must demonstrate on-going fundraising employment and fundraising results and continue with their professional education. Employers and donors who work with CFREs know they are getting a professional who is committed to the best outcomes for their organization and has the requisite knowledge and skills.

The CFRE certification signifies a confident, ethical fundraising professional.

Since 1981, CFRE has set standards for fundraising professionals. As the only globally recognized fundraising certification, CFRE indicates professionalism, confidence, and ethics. It is how today’s fundraiser shows accountability, service, and commitment to making a difference for good. The CFRE certification program is accredited by the American National Standards Institute and is the only accredited certification for fundraising professionals.

BANKS GIVE TOWARD EDUCATION

NEMCC Adult Education recently received a $1,500.00 donation from BancorpSouth. BancorpSouth is an active supporter of the Community Reinvestment Act which allows them to seek opportunities in our community where financial education assistance is needed, particularly for the low-to-moderate income families. Through this generous donation the Adult Education program is able to assist students with financial needs including incentives and supportive services. A representative of BancorpSouth, Christy Schell presents the check to Patrick Eaton, Laurie Kesler, and Dr. Ricky Ford.

During the ground breaking ceremony held for the Northeast at Ripley Center, The Peoples Bank of Ripley announced its $100,000 donation. Representatives Bobby Martin, Mary Childs, and Becky Benson, present the donation to Patrick Eaton and Dr. Ricky Ford.

Field of Dreams

BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL COMPLEX

Four years of planning, research and construction has finally paid off for the Northeast Mississippi Community College baseball and softball programs with the opening of the “Field of Dreams.”

Northeast held an official dedication ceremony for the complex on Saturday, February 1. The brand-new, multi-million dollar facility will serve as the first on-campus home for the baseball and softball teams in school history.

Both baseball and softball utilized a long-standing partnership with Booneville City Park to play their home games at Harold T. White Field and David Carnell Memorial Field, respectively.

“Somebody asked me ‘What do you want to do?’ when I became president,” said Northeast president Dr. Ricky Ford. “I immediately said I want us to have a baseball (and softball) field. We have never owned a baseball or softball field that we can call our own.

“Now we can say we have our own and it is the best in the country without a doubt. We're looking forward to our softball and baseball teams performing and winning."

A bronze tiger was placed in commemoration of the "Field of Dreams" Baseball and Softball Complex Capital Gift Campaign and the new home for Northeast Tiger baseball and softball.

More than 500 people flocked to the City of Hospitality for this historic event, which included free hats, t-shirts and concession stand food compliments of the Northeast Development Foundation.

Athletic director Kent Farris, chairman of the Northeast board of trustees Jack Ramsey and Patrick Eaton, who is the executive director of the development foundation, joined Ford in speaking at the ribbon cutting.

"This project started out as the "Field of Dreams," but today it is Northeast's field of reality," said Farris. "God has been so good to us. We've got numerous players, managers, student trainers and statisticians that have all represented Northeast in a first class manner over the years. Because of the way that they represented Northeast, this dream that you see today was made possible."

"This "Field of Dreams" has been a dream for many years," Ramsey said. "I've had the privilege of being on this board for 35 years and I would say for at least 35 years we've wanted baseball and softball fields. Finally this dream has come true."

"As our "Field of Dreams" capital gifts campaign slogan stated, 'If you build it, they will come,' said Eaton. "By the blessings of the Lord, we were able to build this state-of-the-art facility."

Both squads competed in intrasquad scrimmages that lasted approximately 45 minutes as well. Eli Eakes had the highlight of the day for baseball with a three-run home run in the third inning of its head-to-head matchup.

The softball version of the Tigers did not hit any homers, but Anna Beth Lucius, Alexis McGreger, Anna Claire Stahl and Katelin Senter all had extra base hits during their controlled scrimmage.

A full afternoon of activities wrapped up with a special first pitch mingle presentation featuring former University of Mississippi (Ole Miss) All-Southeastern Conference (SEC) standout and assistant coach Keith Kessinger.

Kessinger bragged about the entire complex, which includes an indoor hitting and pitching building, fieldhouse complete with locker rooms for both teams and two-story pressbox, during his keynote address.

"I don't know if you can say enough about this facility," Kessinger said. "I'd been fortunate enough to come over a few times and see it under construction. But to see the finished product is really special.

"This is going to be such a huge deal for the baseball and softball programs to help them get kids on campus. You don't have to worry as much about the weather with the turf field, which will help continue player development."

2019 NORTHEAST SPORTS & ALUMNI HALL OF FAME

Recognition Banquet

NEMCC NAMES BLUES LEGEND SAM MOSLEY TO ALUMNI HALL OF FAME CLASS

For over 70 years, Northeast Mississippi Community College alumni Sam Mosley has been gracing the hills country of Mississippi and the entire Magnolia State with his gift of blues music.

A native of the Beaver Dam community in Union county and the son of a sharecropper, Mosley's love for music started young by listening to his father Joe Mosley play the mandolin in a string band with his brothers Bud and Theodore.

However, Sam Mosley's music career began to blossom early when he joined with his brothers Jamie and Ralph, as they started performing as the "Starlighters," in the 1950s and then "Jamie Mosley & the Dynamics," later on in the decade.

Mosley has served tirelessly to the college including providing a pair of free concerts to Northeast employees, students and the community.

Mosley's views on education were shaped earlier than that during his time at the B.F. Ford School in New

Albany where he realized the value of an education and wanted to go to college to be a schoolteacher.

However, life had other plans.

Mosley was drafted into the United States Army in 1965 and served until 1967 — which included a tour in Vietnam from 1966-1967.

Upon his return to the states in 1967, Mosley reconnected with friend, Bob Johnson, who informed him that Northeast was re-organizing its football team after an 11-year hiatus and they were asked by legendary Northeast football coach

William B. "Bill" Ward if they wanted to be on it.

Mosley and Johnson enrolled at Northeast in 1968 and it was during that first season back, that Mosley put his mark in the Northeast football record book by becoming the first African American to catch a touchdown pass when he hauled in a touchdown pass on a play called "190 Sideline and Go," and helped Northeast beat Southwest Mississippi 33-20 on September 7, 1968.

Mosley was the astute student and made sure that his grades were in order, even though his time was split between the classrooms, football and the blues clubs and graduated with from Northeast with an Associate of Arts degree in business data processing. Mosley's education did not stop there and went on to the University of Mississippi (Ole Miss) and graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1973.

While his love for being a schoolteacher never faded, Mosley knew that he wanted to share his love of music to the masses.

Mosley's music career picked up when he reconnected with Johnson. After agreeing to a creative partnership, the duo tried to decide on a name for a group and went through phases of "Bobby Johnson and the Messengers," "Sam and Bob and The Soul Men," and even "Mojoba," before finally settling in on "The Mosley and Johnson Band."

While the name took a while to come up with, one thing was for certain, Mosley and Johnson's music was in high demand in the Mississippi Hill Country and across the Magnolia State.

In 1967, Mosley and Johnson started recording at the John Mahalic studio in Tupelo but their big break came in 1968 when, while performing at a Memphis nightclub, the duo was asked for some demos and was soon on their way to recording with Hi Recording Studio in Memphis.

In 1971, Mosley and Johnson released their first album together, Mississippi Mud, under their own record label – SABO Music – as Sam and Bob and the Soulmens.

Soon after the release of Mississippi Mud, Mosley and Johnson found themselves at Malaco Records in Jackson and produced three albums for the central Mississippi label.

In addition to their own record release, Johnson and Mosley also recorded for Polydor records in the 1970s as Mojoba before finally finding their identity as The Mosley and Johnson Band.

Mosley and Johnson's career continued to reach new heights throughout the 1980s with the release for the self-titled album "Mosley & Johnson" in 1985 and "Mosley & Johnson Premium" in 1987.

However, in 1989, Mosley and Johnson reached the international market when the pair set out on a European tour and played in such European cities as London, Paris and Switzerland. The pinnacle of the European tour for Mosley and Johnson was the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland where the duo got to perform on stage with Blues musician B.B. King.

In 2000, Mosley and Johnson were nominated for a Grammy Award for Best Traditional Blues Album off of Bobby Bland's "Memphis Monday Morning"...only to lose out to King's "Blues on the Bayou."

In 2008, The Mosley Johnson Band was honored with a marker on the Mississippi Blues Trail in New Albany at the corner of Washington and Cleveland streets. The Mississippi Blues Trail contains 120 markers throughout the Magnolia State and outside the state with 30 of the markers contained in the Mississippi "Hills Country."

During his performance times, Mosley has had the opportunity to play with Blues greats such as Lou Rawls, Bobby Bland, Denise LaSalle and Johnnie Taylor and had the opportunity to write for some of the best as well.

A graduate of New Albany's B.F. Ford School in 1964, Mosley has received two gold records for songwriting and producing, one gold record from his work with Johnny Taylor and one from his work with ZZ Hill.

SPORTS HALL OF FAME'S TWELFTH CLASS FEATURES HOOPS STANDOUTS, LONGTIME COACH

Northeast Mississippi Community College Sports Hall of Fame was conceived in the interest of recognizing coaches, athletes, and administrators who coached and/or played or were loyal supporters of Northeast athletics.

Selected in the 12th class of dignitaries to enter into the prestigious Sports Hall of Fame were Anthony Gamble, William "Billy" Southward, and Shirley Hall White.

SHIRLEY HALL WHITE (Men's Basketball 1987-88, 1988-89)

Shirley Hall White helped to lay the foundation for what has become one of the most successful women's basketball programs in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

White was a member of Northeast Mississippi Community College's first two teams following an 18-year layoff after the sport was discontinued by each of the Magnolia State's two-year institutions in 1955.

She was part of an inaugural group of 13 Lady Tigers, or Tigerettes as they were originally called at that time, that was comprised solely of women from the college's traditional five-county district.

Northeast won its initial matchup back from the hiatus on November 6, 1973 by a score of 58-53 at Meridian Community College. The Tigerettes were victorious in their home opener as well against that same Meridian squad one week later.

White and the Tigerettes dashed through the months of November and December without a loss. Northeast went 7-0 before the Christmas break, which included a sweep of East Mississippi Community College.

The Tigerettes ran their unbeaten streak to 11 straight games following the holiday hiatus with a 60-50 victory versus visiting Mississippi State University and a 60-53 decision over Northwest Mississippi Community College.

Northeast ended White's freshman campaign with a solid 12-4 record after falling to Hinds Community College and host Meridian on the same day in the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) State Tournament.

White was recognized with MACJC All-State honors after leading the Tigerettes with approximately 18 points per game. She was also picked by her peers for the Best Offensive Player Award.

She was one of seven returning players for Northeast during the 1974-75 campaign. The Tigerettes picked up where they left off the previous year with a season opening 77-60 triumph over Blue Mountain College in which White contributed nine points.

The Ingomar High School graduate found her shooting touch once again in the Tigerettes' next outing. White poured in a team-best 30 points in a heartbreaking 78-76 setback to Lambuth (Tenn.) University inside legendary Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

White, who wore jersey No. 31 while under the direction of Hall of Fame coach Millard Lothenore for two years, completed her tenure at Northeast with wins over Jackson State (Tenn.) Community College and Blue Mountain during the spring semester.

She repeated as a MACJC All-State selection and again received the Best Offensive Player Award. White also earned the prestigious Tiger Award for women's basketball after displaying quality characteristics such as leadership and sportsmanship throughout her sophomore season.

The New Albany product handled her business outside the gymnasium as well. White was one of 35 individuals from Northeast to gain distinction as a "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges" in 1975.

White also secured a spot on the Dean's List after excelling in her major of health and physical education. She continued her career on the court and eventually obtained a Bachelor's degree at Blue Mountain.

WILLIAM "BILLY" SOUTHWARD*(Men's Basketball 1987-88, 1988-89)*

William "Billy" Southward was tasked with multiple responsibilities over a distinguished coaching and teaching career that spanned across parts of four decades at Northeast Mississippi Community College.

He originally arrived on the Booneville campus in 1974 to assist legendary Northeast headman W.B. "Bill" Ward as a defensive coach. Southward worked with the linebackers, defensive backs and defensive ends in his inaugural season with the Tigers.

Southward worked under five different head coaches at Northeast, including Ward from 1974-82, David Carnell from 1983-85, Johnny Plummer from 1986-89, Hubert Tucker from 1990-94 and Gunter Brewer in 1995.

His 22 seasons with the Tigers make him the second longest tenured football coach in school history. Only Carnell's 23 combined years as an assistant and head coach rank longer than Southward's service.

Five National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) All-Americans played for Northeast during Southward's time with the team, including defensive backs Barry Todd in 1977 and Maury Hill in 1979 plus defensive lineman Paul Rhodes in 1980.

Southward was on the sidelines for several of the most successful campaigns in program history. He saw the Tigers rise to No. 1 in the entire country in the J.C. Gridwire poll and No. 2 in the NJCAA rankings during the 1980 season.

Northeast captured its inaugural Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) North Division championship that year after winning nine straight outings. The Tigers also hosted a playoff game for the first time ever.

The Tishomingo native helped Northeast return to the state playoffs twice more in 1983 and 1987 after finishing as the MACJC North Division runner-up during both of those seasons.

The Tigers captured one of their biggest marquee wins ever during Southward's next-to-last campaign on the gridiron. Northeast upset defending national champion Mississippi Delta Community College by a score of 14-12 on October 20, 1994.

He joined his colleagues Carnell and Ward in earning MACJC Coaching Staff of the Year laurels following the successful 1980 season. Southward was selected to coach in the 1977 MACJC All-Star Classic as well.

Southward took control of the baseball team from Carnell in the spring of 1975. He gave the program some needed stability after the Tigers featured seven different head coaches in the previous 14 years.

He also guided Northeast through a period of transition on the diamond. The Tigers expanded their schedule from playing fewer than 15 games before Southward's arrival to competing in more than 30 contests in his final season of 1985.

Several of his former Northeast student-athletes signed scholarships with four-year institutions, including Tim Kent, Jerry Long and David Wilkerson with the University of North Alabama.

Southward spent 11 total seasons at the helm of the baseball team. He is one of only two men to serve as head coach of the Tigers for more than a decade along with Ray Scott, who holds the school record at 15 years.

He remained at Northeast for an additional nine years as a physical education instructor after transitioning out of the athletic department. Southward officially retired from the college in 2005.

Southward starred on the gridiron himself at Mississippi State University from 1969-72. He was a three-year letter winner that started at both linebacker and defensive back for the Bulldogs.

Mississippi State went 6-5 during Southward's sophomore campaign, which included big victories over the University of Georgia, Oklahoma State University and Texas Tech University all at Mississippi Veterans Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

Southward and the Bulldogs, who were under the watch of coach Charley Shira, remained competitive during his junior and senior seasons with wins over the University of Florida in the state capital and the University of Houston (Texas).

He stayed in Starkville to open his coaching career as a graduate assistant for Mississippi State in 1973. The Bulldogs compiled a 4-5-2 overall record in Southward's lone year on the staff.

The Tishomingo High School alumnus was previously inducted into the Northeast Mississippi Coaches Association for Better Baseball (NEMCABB) Hall of Fame in 2000.

ANTHONY GAMBLE*(Men's Basketball 1987-88, 1988-89)*

Anthony Gamble was an integral part of one of the most exciting teams in the tradition-rich history of the Northeast Mississippi Community College men's basketball program.

Gamble led the Tigers to a runner-up finish in the 1989 National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Division I National Tournament at the legendary Sports Arena in Hutchinson, Kan.

Northeast opened the national championship game against Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College on a 16-7 run. But the Norsemen came from behind to down the Tigers by a final score of 83-76 despite Gamble's team-best 27-point effort.

Gamble was one of two Northeast standouts to receive a spot on the NJCAA Division I All-Tournament team along with Clay Johnson. He was the top scorer and the second leading rebounder of the entire event with sensational averages of 31.3 points and 11.1 boards.

The duo of Gamble and Johnson concurrently became the Tigers' ninth and tenth NJCAA All-Americans. They remain just the second tandem of players in program history to earn All-American honors in the same season along with Gene Garrett and Kenneth Lindsey from the 1949-50 campaign.

Gamble consistently scored 30 points on any given night during his sensational sophomore year in which Northeast compiled a 30-5 overall record and won the NJCAA Region 23 Tournament championship prior to its journey to the Sunflower State.

The Wheeler High School graduate opened the season by accounting for 31 points in a 115-93 victory over Jackson State (Tenn.) Community College. Gamble followed that with a 34-point effort in a road triumph at Copiah-Lincoln Community College.

Gamble and the Tigers upped their mark to 12-0 after opening Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) North Division play with a 96-88 win versus Holmes Community College. He continued his assault on the nets with a game-high 37 points.

Northeast wrapped up the first semester with a 15-1 record and a No. 14 ranking from the NJCAA. The Tigers gained revenge from their lone loss of the fall with a 98-76 decision over Walker State (Ala.) College, which is now part of the Beville State (Ala.) Community College system, in early January after Gamble tallied 21 points.

The Tigers were just as good during Gamble's freshman campaign. Northeast won its initial 27 games, which included a perfect 24-0 ledger during the regular season and the MACJC North Division title.

The 6-4 post player helped the Tigers reach the state and regional championship contests, but Co-Lin emerged as the victor in both tilts. Gamble had a team-high 18 points during the MACJC title matchup inside historic Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Gamble, who was instructed by Hall of Fame coach Harvey Childers, had stellar performances following the Christmas break with 22 and 20 points against Mississippi Delta Community College and Holmes, respectively.

He recorded his inaugural 30-plus point outing on November 14, 1987. Gamble notched 32 points that evening in a come-from-behind 93-81 triumph over Mississippi County (Ark.) Community College, which is now Arkansas Northeastern College.

Gamble signed with the University of North Alabama following his sensational career in the City of Hospitality. The Lions went 20-8 during the 1989-90 campaign under the watch of headman Gary Elliott.

The Booneville native was selected as the Gulf South Conference (GSC) Player of the Week on February 27, 1990 after guiding North Alabama to a thrilling 107-102 win versus rival Troy (Ala.) University one day earlier.
